

Publicise your brand to over 800 members of the British Society of Soil Science (BSSS). Our members are employed in both private and public sector institutions including academic universities, conservation charities, construction companies and agri-environmental consultancies. Our members represent key decision makers within their organisations and have an interest in further education and training.

The twice-annual publication includes compelling content from soil science experts including overviews of the latest scientific information from our events and conferences and highlights from our two academic journals European Journal of Soil Science and Soil Use and Management.

Why advertise with us?

- Reach your market

Soil Matters can help to reach a large audience of loyal readers. The electronic publication can help promote your business to our 800 members every six months, with the publication available to non-members via our website six months later.

- Targeted audience

Sell your specialist products and services by targeting your ideal market of soil science professionals.

- Adding credibility

Add credibility to your brand by being associated with the eminent organisation of professional soil scientists in the UK.

- Affordable marketing with an enhanced ROI

Preferential rates are offered exclusively when booked via a full or fellow member of the Society to provide additional membership opportunities.

- Supporting your industry

Support BSSS and encourage other contacts and members to advertise in Soil Matters, to raise your profile, along with that of the Society.

- Advertise to your future employees!

Our job vacancies page allows you to promote your soil-related opportunities and when booked via a member, job advertisements can be placed free of charge.

About BSSS

The British Society of Soil Science is an established international membership organisation and charity committed to the study of soil in its widest aspects. The society brings together those working within academia, practitioners implementing soil science in industry and all those working with, or with an interest in soils.

Our values reflect our science: we are dedicated to preserving the natural environment and our Environmental Policy sets out how we will commit to do this across our services.
